

Suicide Prevention

Sep 2020a

Library &
Information
Service

Randomised Controlled

Trial Home treatment by crisis resolution teams can prevent hospital admission, according to Swiss research This post provides a review of a recent Swiss RCT, which found that crisis resolution teams led to fewer hospital days per patient, but did not prevent hospital admission entirely.

Systematic Reviews

Digital interventions for suicidal thinking: a tale of two reviews Summary of two recent systematic reviews on digital interventions for suicidal thinking, which include more or less the same research, but come to quite different conclusions.

Loneliness and suicide: what's the link and what role does depression play? This post provides an appraisal of a recent systematic review and meta-analysis of prospective studies, which suggests that loneliness can predict future suicidal ideation and/or behaviour.

Means restriction for the prevention of suicide on roads This systematic review highlights the paucity of research around road traffic suicides and the need for future robust studies that aim to investigate the effectiveness of interventions to prevent suicide on roads.

Reports

Government needs to do more to support young people who self-harm says Suicide and Self-Harm Prevention APPG A new inquiry led by the APPG on Suicide and Self-Harm Prevention, supported by Samaritans has found that young people who self harm are not getting the support they need.

Prison Suicide Review. Former prisoner perspectives This report provides an overview of the research conducted by Revolving Doors Agency as part of a review of the implementation of the Prisons & Probation Ombudsman's (PPO) recommendations into self-inflicted deaths in custody. It builds on the views and experiences of people with lived experience of the criminal justice system to consider what actions could support the mental health of prisoners and reduce the occurrence of suicide in prison.

Covid-19

Hope during the COVID-19 pandemic: perspectives from people with personal experience of self-harm, suicide and mental health A patient safety research centre has created a virtual photographic exhibition, 'Hope during the COVID-19 Pandemic: perspectives from people with personal experience of self-harm, suicide, and mental health.'